DRYS ANXIOUS ABOUT HAYNES POST ON BOARD

Await Action of Mellon in Confirming Appointment of Commissioner

ANTI-SALOON CLUB ISSUE

If Al Smith Is Nominated, Coolidge's Future Is Involved in Dispute

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1927 by Post Pub. Co.)

Washington—For some reason the "drys" are a bit anxious about the permanent appointment of Roy Haynes as commissioner of the newly created bureau of prohibition. Mr. Haynes was appointed acting commissioner when Secretary Mellon was away. Now that the secretary of the treasury is back, the drys are wondering if he will confirm the selection.

Senator Willis, of Ohio, one of the spokesmen for the "dry" organizations, has discussed the Haynes' appointment with President Coolidge and is insisting that there be no delay about it. Secretary Mellon has rather indicated that he would like to think the matter over.

Mr. Haynes' superior officer of course would be General Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury. And there is every reason to believe that General Andrews' attitude toward prohibition enforcement fits in with that of Secretary Mellon. But there have been rumors that Mr. Andrews would resign if he were appointed. It was expected on March 4, if he resigns, Mr. Mellon will face the barrage of the Anti-Saloon League, which will insist on a man more or less of the Haynes type. The latter is much more inclined toward the Anti-Saloon League idea of enforcement than is General Andrews. When there is the chance of appealing to the moral instincts of the people in enforcing prohibition, whereas some of the treasury officials feel that progress will be made when enforcement is carried out on the practical basis of using the time and energies of the bureau in going at the largest sources of supply.

COOLIDGE IS ARBITER

Mr. Coolidge is the arbiter of the dispute. It is his political future which is wrapped up in the question. For if Al Smith is the Democratic candidate and if Mr. Coolidge is the Republican nominee, the dry strength will have to be kept in line actively for the Republican side of the fight, especially in the states west of the Alleghenies. Then there is the chance that Senator Willis may yet become the candidate of the Anti-Saloon League for the presidency. He has always been held in the ring as a sort of pressure on all other candidates for he satisfies in every respect the wishes of the leading dry organizations.

Prohibition enforcement may become a political issue of much more practical importance than prohibition itself. The expenditure of large sums of money without getting results in the popular states has been a favorite argument of the "wets" who contend that the administration of the law is faulty. To this, the "drys" answer that the biggest barrier to enforcement is the attitude of the "wets" who while not admitting that they are discouraging obedience to the law, are nevertheless endeavoring to prove that law enforcement has thus far been futile.

On the policy pursued by the prohibition bureau depends a great deal for President Coolidge and the Republican administration assumes more or less passive attitude toward the enforcement problem, the drys will begin a steady attack which might have the effect of keeping certain republican wets in line for they are much more interested in that kind of a policy than in voting the Democratic ticket. The number of states in which the Republican party is "wet" is limited and the chances are that Mr. Coolidge will be found for the next several months working closer to the ideas of the Anti-Saloon League than any other elements in the situation.

WOMAN SPY IMPRISONED; BRITAIN TO DEPORT HER

London—(AP)—Kate Gussfeld, alias Elsie, alias Ethel Chiles, began a two months' term of imprisonment Tuesday, at the cost of $10,000, for espionage in connection with the spy ring which had been found guilty of conspiring to obtain a British passport under false pretenses.

Scotland Yard officials claim she was engaged in espionage against a friendly foreign power, while the Daily Mail describes her as a "dangerous international spy and says that she has been active in Great Britain as one of Moscow's most active agents."

Her baggage contained among other things a supply of invisible ink and documents written with this ink, police said. From all accounts the pretty, 25-year-old, blond, seems to have been closely associated with British communists.

CHICAGO DEBT WILL BE NEAR 8 MILLION BY CLOSE OF YEAR

Chicago—(AP)—Chicago's pocket-book is flat, with the probability that the city will be nearly eight million dollars "in the red" by the end of the year, Mayor Thompson has informed the city council.

Reduction of teachers salaries, even the closing of the schools for a month, together with possible failure to meet the city's payroll were pictured by Alderman John Clark, chairman of the finance committee unless more money was forthcoming.

One large business firm has threatened to stop filling orders for city supplies, he said, because the payment of bills has been held up.

Comptroller Charles C. Fitzmorris reported that the city's bonding status is equally serious. None of the bonds voted at the April election can be sold, he said, and the city has virtually reached the limit of its bonding powers.

$40,000 REQUEST TO HOSPITAL OBTAINED BY UNDUE INFLUENCE

Supreme Court Justice Denies Summary Method Used by Methodist Minister

Madison—(AP)—Upholding a contention of the Douglas-co court, the state supreme court held that the $40,000 bequest of the late Francis C. Walker, Barron-co, to the Wisconsin Methodist hospital was obtained through "undue influence" and ordered the will disallowed.

It was alleged that the Rev. J. W. Irish, Madison, executive secretary of the hospital "made numerous visits to the sick bed of Walker and intruded himself into the confidence of testator."

In an opinion handed down with the decision, Judge Owen deprecates the methods used by the Rev. Mr. Irish in effecting a bequest to the hospital.

"The Rev. Mr. Irish frankly admitted," the opinion read, "that intrusive and unwelcome visits were prompted by a dual purpose and were made in a dual capacity. We well may believe that the dominant purpose was to procure a bequest for the hospital association, and that his desire to promote the spiritual welfare of the testator was mere pretense and sham under cover of which he was enabled to intrude himself into the confidence of the testator."

"The results obtained proclaim the abominable sordidness of his purposes." Continuing his attack, the supreme court justice declared that the minister probably "saved his conscience with the reflection that the end justified the means."

Action to nullify the last will of Walker was brought by brothers and sisters who declared that because of the testator's feebleness at the time the will was drawn he could not "resist the requests of the Rev. Irish."

PROBE REPORT OF GIFTS TO NEW YORK BANKRUPT

New York—(AP)—Investigation of reports that Mrs. Rita DeCosta Lydie has received $600,000 during the last 15 years from four socially prominent New Yorkers has been asked by creditors of the society matron, who recently filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy.

Counsel for Miss Elsie DeWolfe, an interior decorator, who is among the creditors, in asking Referee Robert P. Stephenson to investigate the reports, expressed doubt that any of the persons in New York would voluntarily give away $40,000 a year for 15 years. The referee was asked to determine whether the income was derived from a secret trust fund. Mrs. Lydie's petition listed her liabilities at $23,635.14, while her sole assets were declared to consist of her furniture and Paris clothes.

APPLETON LEGIONAIRES ATTEND CELEBRATION

H. L. Plummer national executive committee man of the American Legion for Wisconsin, and Marshall Graef, district commander of the Eighth legion district, will attend a meeting of the Stevens Point Legion Wednesday evening.

The Stevens Point post is celebrating a membership of more than 600. Each year when the legion membership passes the membership mark of the year before a banquet is held. In 1925 there were 462 members and in 1926 550 and this year it has already grown to over 600.

RACINE BOY IS KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE MISHAP

HOOVER URGES CARE IN U. S. LOANS ABROAD

Morgan Representative Also Warns Americans to Be Cautious

Washington—(AP)—The head of the government's commerce department and a prominent banker have emphasized that caution should govern financiers in their dealings with foreign nations.

Secretary Hoover advocated that nations should decline to loan money for purposes of military preparation and Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan and Co. foresaw a demoralizing effect upon countries where, he said, some American banking firms are competing on almost a violent scale for the purpose of obtaining loans in various foreign money markets overseas.

Speaking before the Pan-American Commercial conference, Secretary Hoover declared money should be loaned only where some productive result would be gained by the recipient nation.

No nation, he said, should itself, or should permit its citizens to borrow money from foreign countries unless this money is to be devoted to productive enterprise.

MUST BE ABLE TO PAY

Out of the wealth and the higher standards of living created from enterprise itself must come the ability to repay the capital, together with the net gain, by the borrowing country.

If nations would refuse to allow the lending of money for the balancing of budgets for military or war purposes, or even that type of public works which does not bring some direct or indirect productive return, a great number of blessings would follow to the entire world.

Mr. Lamont, prefacing his remarks on international financing with a warning that the world is not credit conditions exceedingly hopeful, said before the international chamber of commerce:

"From the point of view of the American investor, it is obviously necessary to scan the situation with increasing circumspection."

"I have in mind the reports that I have recently heard of American bankers and firms competing on almost a violent scale for the purpose of obtaining loans in various foreign money markets overseas."

"That sort of competition tends to insecurity and unsound practice. The American investor is an intelligent individual and must be relied upon to discriminate."

DITCH CAVES IN AND INJURES MAN

Frank Boyea, Little Chute, Receives Fractured Skull and Chest Injuries

Frank Boyea, Little Chute, an employee of the Meyer Construction Co. at St. Elizabeth hospital with a fractured skull and chest injuries as a result of a cave in of a ditch in which he was working Monday afternoon in the yard of the Kimberly-Clark Co. at Kimberly. He was almost buried under a mass of earth.

RETAIL COMMITTEE MEETS TO ORGANIZE

The organization meeting of the general retail committee of the chamber of commerce will be held at 3:30 Wednesday morning at the chamber office. The committee is composed of representatives of each retail line in the Appleton business district and for this reason every member has been urged to be present so his line will not be without representation.

An executive committee of seven will be elected by the entire committee at the meeting. This committee will carry on the detail work of the larger group. W. O. Thiede is chairman of the large committee and R. T. Gage is vice chairman.

TALISMAN STAFF REPORTERS EDIT POST-CRESCENT PAGE

Sixteen members of the staff of the Talisman, high school publication, edited page three of today's Post-Crescent. If readers of this paper miss news from its accustomed places it undoubtedly will be found on the Talisman page.

SECRET SERVICE MAN TO VIEW SITES FOR CAL'S SUMMER HOME

Coolidge Representative Will Inspect Locations Offered President

Washington—(AP)—Edward W. Starling, White House secret service man, will leave in a day or two to inspect sites in the west which have been offered for a summer White House. He will go as far west as Colorado Springs at last.

Lake Minnetonka, Minn., Colorado Springs; the Black Hills of South Dakota; several sites in Wisconsin and Lake Okoboji, Iowa, were mentioned at the White House as among places to be inspected.

Proper accommodations for the large staff must accompany the president, and weather conditions will be governing factors in influencing President Coolidge's choice.

CONSIDER ALTITUDE

Altitude is being considered insofar as it affects the temperature and it was said the altitude of Lake Okoboji was virtually the same as that of Paul Smith's, N. Y., where the summer White House was established last year.

Mr. Coolidge expects to establish his summer home this side of the Rockies, although he might go as far as the slopes of the mountains. It was pointed out that sites in Wisconsin and Northern Minnesota would be given careful consideration and that no decision would be made until a report was received from Starling in about two weeks.

FIND 6 MORE BODIES IN MINE DISASTER

Fairmont, W. Va.—(AP)—The bodies of six additional victims of the Everettville mine disaster were located by rescue workers at noon Tuesday, making the total known dead 24. The rescuers continued their search for 70 miners still missing.

MORE BANDITS KILLED FOR TRAIN OUTRAGE

Mexico City—(AP)—Further punishment has been inflicted on the band which attacked the Guadalajara train two weeks ago. Secretary of War Amaro announced Tuesday. The rebels, divided into groups of 150 each, were overtaken by federal forces at Los Pastores and LaCulebra, 39 being killed and more than thirty being wounded.

When the rebels were overtaken soon after the train attack, 60 were killed in a five hour engagement.

Nearly fifty soldiers and about fifty passengers were killed and fifty passengers injured in the Guadalajara train outrage. The censorship imposed on local newspapers ten days ago has been lifted.

Badger Convict Revealed Chicago Kidnapping Plot

Chicago—(AP)—A Wisconsin convict, Gus Saunders, sent to Waupun on a 20-year sentence for the robbery of an Augusta, Wis. bank, Saunders said the police have been Fenekes' nemesis for years. Once they were communists in robbery, the police said, but Saunders got caught. After he was sent to prison he learned that Fenekes has become friendly with his wife and later that she and Fenekes had been living together.

Fenekes' plot reached this woman and from her was carried to her husband, who relayed word back to Chicago on the trail that revealed the plot, the police said.

Saunders in his prison cell in 1925 knew enough of Fenekes' movements, said the police, to tip them off where he could be found and this tip led to the arrest of Fenekes, associate in the Chicago kidnaping plot.

The police believe that the plot had been conceived by Fenekes in the Cook-co jail and in Joliet penitentiary and had been relayed by another Chicago bank robber and safe blow, now serving a sentence in the Wisconsin State penitentiary at Waupun.

CITY TO KEEP FUND PENDING TRIAL OF SUIT

Judge Parks Says Treasurer May Retain Money to Protect Himself

Circuit Judge Byron B. Park, Stevens Point, Tuesday ruled that the temporary injunction recently granted the city by Judge Edgar V. Werner restraining the city treasurer from paying the $100,453 in alleged illegal taxes to the county, and restraining the county from seeking to force the payment, should continue pending trial of the suit.

In his decision, he pointed to the case of Rinder vs. Madison, in which the Supreme court recognized a right in the city to withhold tax money from the county pending the determination of the validity of the tax.

Unless the county takes an appeal to the Supreme court, Judge Park advised that the case be tried in May or June. Whether the injunction will be dissolved or made permanent will be decided at that time.

In the Rinder vs. Madison case, the city of Madison held that $47,110.33 in taxes collected by it was illegal, and ordered its treasurer not to pay the money to the county. The county treasurer brought action to compel the payment, and the trial court held that $41,297.07 of the $47,110.33 was a valid tax and $5,813.26 was not valid. The city was allowed to keep this latter amount and ordered to pay that found valid to the county.

COURT REVERSES RULE

A penalty of 5 per cent for not having paid the money to the county treasurer within the time specified by the statutes was imposed on the city treasurer by the trial court, but this was reversed when the case was appealed.

The Supreme court said this in its decision:

"Under these circumstances it cannot be reasonably said that the city treasurer has failed to perform his official duty within the requirement of section 1117 Statutes of 1915. To hold otherwise would penalize the treasurer for obeying the commands of the common council and for protecting himself and his bondsmen against a possible liability for the whole tax if the court should find it to be invalid."

"The challenge of the tax in the Rinder case was the constitutionality of the legislation providing for the tax, which is not a graver charge than that the tax levied at the special session of the Outagamie-co board was fraudulent and void, and levied with intent to evade the statutes limiting the assessments for road purposes," Judge Park said in his decision.

RECOGNIZE CITY RIGHT

It is seemingly obvious that if the city treasurer of Madison had threatened to pay the money notwithstanding the command of the common council, the city of Madison would have been sustained in an action to test the validity of the tax making the city treasurer, county treasurer and the county defendants and restraining the payment of the money pending the trial.

"In passing upon the 5 per cent penalty the court necessarily, directly and affirmatively recognized a right in the city to withhold the money from the county pending the determination of the validity of the tax."

"If a tax is illegal, all those taxpayers who have paid the tax and are otherwise in position to do so may file claims against the city and the city must repay the taxpayer and then secure from the county a credit in next year's tax."

If the city has the right by action to determine the validity of the tax it seems certain from the Rinder case, and the cumbersome statutory method

MANY ROMANCES ARE DEVELOPED DURING 'SCHOOL SHIP' TRIP

New York—(AP)—Numerous romances and engagements developed among the 500 students aboard the Holland-American liner Rydam, first American co-educational floating university, while the ship was on its seven months tour of the world, the New York Sun Tuesday quotes Mrs. T. M. Fogg, dear of the women students, as saying:

"Of course many of our students became engaged on the voyage. It was only a perfectly natural outgrowth of propinquity and attachments formed during the long voyage."

"I can state quite positively that the co-educational aspect of the cruise was a success. We made no attempt at strict discipline. The student body was composed of 440 boys and 60 girls from every state in the union."

The Rydam docked at Hoboken Monday.

GRAY TAKES STAND IN OWN DEFENSE IN SNYDER MURDER CASE

Nine Year Old Daughter of Mrs. Snyder Testifies for Her Mother

Queens-co Courthouse, N. Y.—(AP)—Henry Judd Gray, co-defendant with Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder in her trial for the murder of her husband, took the stand Tuesday afternoon. He followed Lorraine, 9-year-old daughter of Mrs. Snyder, who testified in her mother's defense.

Lorraine Snyder was asked one question as to whether she brought aid to her mother.

"I got the Mulhausers," she said in a childish treble, and was excused. As Gray testified, Mrs. Ruth Snyder, his former sweetheart, and his co-defendant, for the murder of her husband sat in his chair, almost in a state of collapse.

She had finished more than 12 hours on the stand, just before Gray was called, and her eyes were red from suppressed weeping.

Gray told of becoming a corset salesman and of his marriage and the birth of his daughter. He sat in the high chair with hands in his lap and fondled, speaking in a clear voice, apparently devoid of emotion, his territory, he said, was all of New England, New York state, Pennsylvania and part of New Jersey.

Counsel for Mrs. Snyder and for the state almost came to blows at the Snyder murder trial. Under examination of Assistant District Attorney Frossell, Mrs. Snyder said she was downstairs on the night her husband was killed when previously she had testified she was bound upstairs.

Frossell asked if she had made a mistake or lied and her lawyer, Edgar P. Hazleton, walked shouting toward the prosecutor, who moved deliberately to meet him. A clash was narrowly averted by the stern remonstrance of the court. A few minutes later Justice Scudder adjourned court for lunch, though it was still half an hour short of the usual time.

Excitement suddenly rose to a high pitch as Mrs. Snyder answered "yes" to the question whether she had seen Gray out of the house after the murder. "Why?" Frossell shouted, "you were lying bound upstairs at that time."

"Yes of course I was," she replied with her hands fluttering to her mouth.

"Then you were lying just now," Frossell thundered, and Hazleton jumped to his feet. "I object to the tactics of the state attorney," he cried and the lawyers walked toward each other. They were shouting unintelligibly when Justice Scudder called them sternly to order. The last question remained unanswered.

WIRELESS INVENTOR ENGAGED TO COUNTESS

Rome—(AP)—Senator William Marconi, inventor of wireless, and Countess Maria Christina Bezz-Scali, young and beautiful member of an old Roman family belonging to the papal aristocracy, are to be married. Announcement of their betrothal divulged nothing as to when the ceremony would take place.

Last month the Rota, or Roman Catholic ecclesiastical court at Rome, granted a decree of nullity in the marriage of Marconi and the Honorable Beatrice O'Brien. Marconi is 53 years old, the son of an Italian father and a French mother.

VIRGINIA YOUTH LOSING HIS BATTLE FOR LIFE

Roanoke, Va.—(AP)—Walter L. Bonthe, continued to lose ground Tuesday said a report from the hospital where he has been kept alive by artificial respiration for 12 days. It is now necessary to speed up respiration for the paralyzed youth. Doctors said the end is near. Bonthe is a 19-year-old son of a prominent and takes no interest in his surroundings.

COUNTY QUOTA FOR RED CROSS NOW IS $2,000

Coolidge Asks Nation to Give $10,000,000 to Flood Sufferers

President Coolidge Tuesday morning called on the American people to raise an additional $5,000,000 for relief in the flood districts in the southern part of the country, and as a result, the quota of the Outagamie County chapter of the Red Cross has been increased from $1,000 to $2,000.

The president increased the National Red Cross goal to $10,000,000 from the original $5,000,000, after hearing a report from Secretary of Commerce Hoover. The secretary, who returned to Washington Monday after making a survey of the situation, reported that 6,000,000 acres already had been flooded and 300,000 people made homeless.

A check for $1,000, the original quota of the county, was sent to general headquarters Tuesday morning by P. M. Conkey, treasurer of the Outagamie chapter. The entire amount had not been raised in the county, Mr. Conkey said, and it was necessary to break into the chapter's reserve fund to fill out the quota. The urgent need for funds decided the chapter to take its reserve funds.

The flood continues unabated and the need for aid is growing more and more urgent, Mr. Conkey pointed out. The drive for funds in the county will continue until conditions have been changed in the south. All checks should be made payable to P. M. Conkey, treasurer of the chapter.

Mr. Hoover recommended doubling the $5,000,000 quota, Mr. Conkey pointed out, and he also urged the expenditure of money by government departments. Such funds could be made up later by congressional deficiency appropriations, he said.

"The situation in the Mississippi valley has developed into a crisis affecting several states," President Coolidge said in his proclamation, issued after the special Mississippi flood committee met in emergency session.

"There are now more than 200,000 flood refugees who have been driven from their homes. This number is being increased daily as fresh breaks in the levees inundate the country on either side of the river."

"These refugees are being fed, sheltered and clothed by the American Red Cross, acting as the agent for the American people. The burden of their care will continue for many more weeks."

"Because of the vast increase in the flooded area, the sum already called for will prove insufficient. The numbers to be cared for have been doubled since that call, and the crest of the flood has not reached all the areas. In order that these thousands of our homeless fellow citizens may continue to receive necessary care a minimum of ten million dollars will be needed, and it is therefore desired that the quotas originally assigned as a minimum to the various communities should be doubled."

"As the President of the United States and as president of the American Red Cross, I am, therefore, urging our people to give promptly and most generously so that sufficient funds may be received to alleviate the suffering among so many thousands."

"For the purposes of organization and effectiveness in the administration of the relief fund, I recommend that all contributions be forwarded to the nearest local Red Cross chapter, or to the American National Red Cross headquarters offices at Washington, St. Louis or San Francisco."

VIRGINIA COPS SEEK CLEW IN BOY'S DEATH

Fredericksburg, Va.—(AP)—The authorities turned their efforts Tuesday toward solving the slaying of 9-year-old Albert Baker found in the Rappahannock river his body badly mutilated and tied in a weighted sack. The boy had been missing since Feb. 22.

Mayor J. King has called in special detectives to solve the crime to which at present there is no single clew. The lad disappeared suddenly from one of the main streets of the city. His body had been severed of one of its hands. Both legs were broken and the skull fractured.

THE TRAIL HOME

"Mickie" is back home again much to his joy and that of his mistress. "Mickie" is a small, very white Spitz dog and the other day he wandered far from his usual haunts. When he failed to return, his owner, Mrs. Joseph Horner, 842 1/2 W. Spencer Street, resorted to the time honored method of locating lost possessions—that of inserting a "Lost Ad." in the Classified Columns of the Post-Crescent. Now "Mickie" is back home again, safe and sound. Mow!—When you have a problem take it to the Classified.

SQUAD PUSHES WAY TO RELIEF OF REFUGEES

Floods Continue Invasion, Widening Scope in North-east Louisiana

SHIP REMOVES TWO LOADS

Conditions in Mississippi Area Bad, Captain of Steamer Reports

New Orleans—(AP)—Successful termination of the fight to hold the levee line against the charge of the Mississippi river Tuesday became a question of grim endurance in the Natchez sector, while a relief squadron plowed through the muddy waters to remove residents from the inundated lowland perches of northeastern Louisiana. The flood waters from the Red and Mississippi rivers continued their invasion, widening their territory northward, and westward as they moved to meet the coming flood from the Arkansas river.

The dike fight became desperate on the west bank of the Mississippi, in the neighborhood of Valdivia, and crews worked throughout the night on electrically lighted embankments. At Newellton the situation became critical as waters slopped over levee tops and emergency measures were speeded to stop the flow.

STRENGTHEN DEFENSES

With thousands of persons already driven from their homes in northeastern Louisiana, the crest was approaching Vicksburg, Miss. Residents in Concordia and Catahoula parishes strengthened their defenses before the oncoming flood.

A rescue fleet composed of six steamboats, four coast guard patrol boats and half a dozen surf launches, left Natchez Tuesday to comb the area covered by water. The Allegheny, a naval tug, moved to St. Joseph, to stand by to remove citizens in case of a crevasse there.

A cry for relief came from a number of refugees marooned at Frogmore, Concordia parish, and arrangements were made to send boats to the near point on the Black river. Engineers said they were sure that the levee was as strong as the Pyramids below the city was widened to 1,000 feet, releasing a sufficient amount of water to lower the level at New Orleans from 1 to 2.5 feet.

FATIGUED FROM EXPOSURE

Vicksburg—(AP)—Fatigued from exposure and a battle with flood waters for four days and nights, Captain Harri Clifford, 31, of the steamer Vicksburg, has landed his second boat load of refugees here.

The Vicksburg left here Friday morning, moving up the Yazoo and Sunflower rivers in response to reports that hundreds of residents of the lowlands were marooned and in danger of drowning.

Captain Clifford, who bore a deep flesh wound in one hand, inflicted by a falling spar, was rescued by the Vicksburg. He said that conditions in the area were bad. At Choctaw Landing, the Vicksburg loaded 558 persons who had fled from their homes. At Onward 200 stood in the water waiting for rescue. Early all of these were women and children. At Holland's Landing bridge, where Captain Clifford had rescued 200 Negroes on his previous trip, farm animals were standing in three feet of water on the bridge, he reported.

"They are sending out all women and children," Captain Clifford said. "And all of them are coming out when their private levee breaks—and that won't be long. The town is covered with water already and the water was still rising."

"In the Rolling Fork territory everything is in a state of panic. There are no knolls in sight. You can see houses floating about and hogs and cows swimming everywhere. We did not see any people swimming."

DAVIS WITH HOOVER

Washington—(AP)—President Coolidge has directed Secretary Davis of the war department, to accompany Secretary Hoover Wednesday when Mr. Hoover returns to the Mississippi flood area in order that the engineer corps of the army and the Mississippi river commission may prepare a report on flood prevention measures.

All departments of the government which can cooperate in flood relief, have not been drawn into the service, the president understands, and he feels that there is no possibility of his helping the situation by a personal inspection. There is no need of a special session of congress, the president has concluded.

FORMER OPERA SINGER WEDS FOR FIFTH TIME

New York—(AP)—Lydia Lockie, former opera singer who has been married four times and acquitted of murder of one husband, has been married once again, the New York American says Tuesday. Her fifth husband is Carlo Mannovic, a New York "chippie" man, says the American.

Mrs. and Mr. Mannovic were married at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

Curriculum changes will make it possible to take all required subjects aside from those for a major during the first two years of the four year course. Heretofore the Biblical literature courses were offered only to upperclassmen. Science majors will be easier to obtain in the future, it was announced. Courses for teachers will be changed to some extent to conform more to the needs of the pupils, it was said. The American history course has been changed from a one to a two year course. The new study will be more detailed.

"What's the big idea?"

"DIDN'T you see that car in front of you? Where's your eyes?" asks the Cop. If you tell him you saw, but your brakes wouldn't hold, that's no excuse to him. He'll bawl you out still harder.

Avoid embarrassment. Reline brakes with Rusco. Stops quicker, rain or shine. Rusco mechanics do expert brake relining and adjusting. They pay more for Rusco but it costs you no more. You get a safer job.

WHERE 77 MINERS WERE ENTOMBED

The explosion in the mine of the New England Fuel and Transportation Company at Fairmount, W. Va., which entombed 77 miners, was so terrific that it wrecked the mine tippie 150 feet from the mouth of the mine and 650 feet from the spot where the explosion occurred. Two men working on the tippie were killed. First reports placed the death toll at 16, exclusive of the entombed men. The inset shows one of the rescue crews which worked desperately to save the entombed men.

ZIMMERMAN LAUDS GERMAN ENTERPRISE

Governor Welcomes German Ambassador When He Visits Wisconsin

Milwaukee — (AP)—Contributions of Germany to the civilized world were extolled by Governor Zimmerman in an address at a banquet in honor of Baron Von Maltzan, German ambassador to the United States, Monday night.

"I have already had the privilege of welcoming our distinguished guest in the name of the state of Wisconsin," the governor said, "but it is a pleasure to do so again in the presence of this fine and representative assemblage of our native city."

"We are highly honored by this visit, and are glad of this opportunity to show the official representative of the great German Republic that we have profited by the experience, the patience and the labor of his people.

"We congratulate him on the achievements of his country and his country men. The whole acknowledges its indebtedness to Germany" and her progress in science, art and industry. Germany's marvelous literature covers the whole experience of human knowledge, and ranks second to none.

"In scientific discovery and development she is without a peer. In using and conserving her natural resources she has set an example which we may well adopt to our profit. The civilized world copies her educational methods and is charmed and thrilled by her art and her music."

"It has become such a common practice to look to Germany for leadership and inspiration that we often fail to give her credit. An examination of the statutes of Wisconsin will disclose the fact that many of its most popular provisions were copied from the Fatherland."

"It is a rare pleasure to be afforded this opportunity to acknowledge pub-

The Right Breakfast for Workers

Eat Food that Supplies "Balanced" Ration After Night's Fast

If you feel tired, hungry, "fidgety" hours before lunch, don't jump to the conclusion of poor health. Thousands have unenergetic mornings because they start days with breakfasts lacking in certain food elements.

To feel right, you must have a well-balanced, complete breakfast ration. At most other meals—lunch and dinner—you get it. But breakfast is a hurried meal, often badly chosen.

Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder, 65% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamins and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today.

It is food that "stands by" you through the morning.

Get Quaker Oats today. Grocers have two kinds: Quick Quaker, which cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes, and Quaker Oats.

A. H. S. JOURNALISTS EDIT THIS PAGE OF POST-CRESCENT

TALISMAN STAFF HOLDS ONE DAY JOB ON CITY NEWSPAPER

Sixteen H. S. People Gather News for One Page of Post-Crescent

BY HELEN WERNER
This entire page of the Post-Crescent was edited by members of the Talisman staff of Appleton High School. The copy was edited without any aid from the regular Post-Crescent staff and under the direction of Miss Ethel Neathus, faculty sponsor of the Talisman. With Miss Janet Carneross, editor of the school paper, who acted as copy editor for the day.

Members of the school staff served as copy readers and reporters. Society items for the Talisman page were written by Miss Louise Marston, society reporter for the day. Copy reading was done by Misses Kathleen Conney, Martha Jentz, Helen Werner, and Mary Schenk.

The various city offices and activities were covered by the amateur reporters. The county assessor of incomes was interviewed by Jean Dandale; the school superintendent by Grace Kenyon; and county treasurer and agricultural agent by Don McMahon. Practically all city offices were covered by Talisman reporters. Carolyn Schael interviewed Mr. Ben Rohan and Miss Carrie Morgan, superintendent of schools. All high school news was in charge of Charles Peerenboom and Carolyn Schael. The police department and the municipal courts runs were taken by Kenneth Laird, under the guidance of a regular Post-Crescent reporter; city engineer, treasurer and clerk were interviewed by Dorothy Drahem. Street department and city assessor were assigned to John Frampton. Building and plumbing inspectors were interviewed by Pearl Guckenberg and news from Judges Heinemann and Berg was taken by Jean Frampton.

The Talisman is the official newspaper of Appleton High School and is published each week by an editorial staff of 11 members and 24 reporters. Only those members of the staff are chosen to act as Post-Crescent reporters who have done their best on the school paper and have proved themselves reliable.

This is the second time that Talisman members have been given a taste of professional journalism. A page edited last year by high school students under the direction of Miss Eveline Broderick faculty sponsor of the Talisman, and Carl Schiebeler, editor. This gives the staff members an excellent opportunity to become familiar with real newspaper work, and they learn the necessity of speed in editing a daily paper. Students who are interested in journalism have a splendid chance to find out more about their life work.

AVERAGE RAINFALL RECORDED IN APRIL

BY JOHN FRAMPTON
"April showers" should bring about the same amount of rain as the month of April usually does, for nothing unusual has been recorded by the barometer, two and four-tenths inches being the total rainfall for this month.

Snow clogged the recording instrument during the month of March and no record is available for that month. Wilmer D. Schiefer, vice president of the Schlafier Hardware company, has kept this record for several years.

However if the old couplet is really true, we wonder how it is that only two or three inches of April showers can make six and seven foot sunflowers?

WHISKERS PREFERRED BY ANCIENT OFFICIALS

BY JOHN FRAMPTON
Were the early mayors of Appleton cowards, or did they wish to economize on neckwear? That is the question which arises in one's mind, when looking at the pictures of all the city chiefs which hang in the city hall.

A brief survey shows that every one from 1852 to 1878 had plentiful whiskers. No wonder that safety razors weren't invented until years later. There was no incentive to an inventor to spend his time on something he couldn't hope to sell.

COUNTY ROADS ARE IN FAIR CONDITION

County Highway Commission Makes Report of Outagamie County Roads

BY KENNETH LAIRD
Upon return from their tour of all the roads in Outagamie County, the county highway commission reports the roads to be in fair shape with only a few exceptions.

County trunk F seems to be in the worst condition and at some points is practically impassable without a tug boat tug of horses which are kept ready for use. Parts of it have been planked from ten to thirty rods at a distance so traffic can keep moving.

The road is so soft that a load of gravel does no good and sinks out of sight immediately. As soon as it dries up a little the highway commission plans to do some grading and graveling.

All of the dirt roads are quite rough and speeding is not at all possible in most of them. The fact that the patrolman could not start to work on them very early is one reason that they are so cut up.

State highway 55 is rough but quite hard and is getting into shape early. Highway 47 is in good condition; 55 is rough but gravelled; 156 is rough and soft in spots.

County trunk lines are in quite fair condition although they are soft and rough in spots.

STREET DEPARTMENT PLANS IMPROVEMENTS

BY JOHN FRAMPTON
East College Avenue is to be resurfaced and Mason Street will be paved soon as the weather is settled enough to permit. Jackson Street hill and Lawrence court will also be given attention and paving put in. This work will probably be started as soon as the rubbish disposal now under way is finished.

More than 27 miles of street are to be repaved. Winter frosts and cold have gotten beneath the paving, causing upheavals and decay and making re-construction necessary. A carload of materials has just arrived and will be used in the repaving. Approximately 270 drums of asphalt material for patching and several barrels of crack-filler are in the shipment.

CHIEF PRIM WARNS AGAINST 4 IN COUPE

Numerous Arrests Recently Made for Reckless Driving

BY KENNETH LAIRD
The question of arresting people riding four in a coupe has been the topic of much discussion through out the city this last week. People maintain that there is no law regarding this hostile act of the police force, but Chief Prim wishes to enlighten them on the subject.

In order not to cause any more trouble than is necessary, plans are being made for a city ordinance forbidding this practice.

Quite a number of people have been arrested on the charge of reckless driving. Chief Prim considers four occupants in a coupe as a dangerous practice for in case of emergency, the driver cannot have full control of his vehicle.

"Offenders of this act will be punished by the usual fine in an effort to put a stop to such reckless practices," said the Chief.

PEOPLE COMPLAIN ABOUT STRAY DOGS

BY KENNETH LAIRD
Many complaints are being received about stray dogs that are "wandering about the streets. People who are making gardens at this time of the year say that a day's work is spoiled in a few minutes when some of these stray curs roll in and about the yard. Owners of dogs are asked to cooperate with the public and their steps will have to be taken to prohibit them from running loose.

There is a city ordinance which compels the dogs to be muzzled during the hottest of the summer months, but this rule is not enforced at the present time. If all the people held their dogs by their own animals no prosecution will be made.

PROJECTS ENLIVEN ENGLISH CLASSES

Original Stories and Other Ideas Interest Juniors in Short Stories

BY CHARLES PEERENBOOM
The junior English classes at high school are working on the short story. The classes are taking up the short stories for American writers. Work is done by the contract system, which allows the students to do as much work as they wish for a higher grade, while a minimum amount of work is required for passing.

Some of the students are writing original short stories for extra credit. Besides this, some are making maps and charts to show the history and development of the short story in America.

Several people are also doing work on dramatization of the various scenes of the short stories studied in class. After the work on short stories is finished the juniors will take up the studies of contemporary authors, at which time each student will make a detailed report on some Modern writer.

MOST MODERN MEAT MARKET IN STATE OPENED AT MENASHA

Hopfenperger Brothers Install Latest Equipment in Menasha Shop

Menasha — The most modern meat refrigeration and meat display system that has yet been devised has been installed in the Hopfenperger Brothers meat market at 216 Main-st., Menasha, at a cost of more than $15,000 and the public will be invited to inspect the equipment on "Sanitary Meat Equipment and Inspection day" next Saturday. The Menasha market of Hopfenperger brothers is said to be the most modern in Wisconsin, for every new wrinkle in sanitation has been installed.

The display counter and serving benches are of Italian marble and the refrigeration counters are entirely glass enclosed so no impurities can get at the meat. Refrigeration pipes pass through the counters and a constant circulation of cold dry air is maintained. The equipment is of German silver and it was said the counters alone cost twice as much as the entire equipment of the ordinary market.

The ice box is of patented construction, with four inches of cork insulation and lined with tile. Refrigeration is assured further by air spaces between walls of cork board. The ice machinery, located in the basement, is equipped with a thermostatic control so that even temperatures can always be maintained.

All the equipment in the market, including the cutting and wrapping tables, is of the very latest design.

The market has been rebuilt in the last few months. Additional property was purchased from the E. E. Grove Clothing Co. to make room for a new office and for enlarged market facilities.

Seymour Lady Spent Over $1000 Without Getting Any Relief

After all hope seemed lost she started on Dreco and she is now in perfect health.

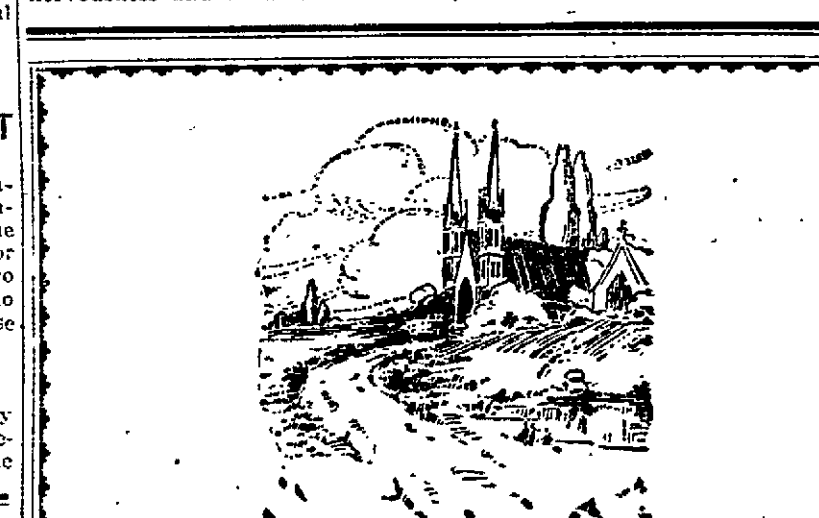

"After fifteen years of suffering, your wonderful medicine has at last made me well and I now go about my work singing and as happy as I can be," declared Mrs. Harry E. Scott in a recent talk with the Dreco man at his headquarters at Schlitz Bros. Drug Store. Mrs. Scott lives in Seymour, a suburb of Appleton and has a host of friends throughout this section.

"I was completely rundown when I first read of Dreco in the paper. My stomach was so disturbed I denied myself even the food I liked best for over a glass of milk would turn sour and form gas as soon as I drank it. The gas was terrible. Sometimes I'd belch so loud it could be heard all over the house and it would blot me out and press against my heart. I thought I had heart trouble. I was always belching up sour, burning liquids that would almost choke me and the pain in my stomach was almost unbearable. I also suffered from constipation, headaches, pains in my back and nervousness and I was so restless at night I woke up just as tired as when I went to bed."

"I spent over $1000.00 trying to get well but nothing seemed to suit my case till I started on Dreco. This wonderful remedy went right to the root of my trouble, however, and now I am completely well. I can eat anything without suffering the least distress with my stomach afterwards, my bowels are as regular as the clock, the pains in my back and head have been relieved, and when my head touches the pillow at night I go right to sleep and don't know a thing till the next morning."

"Dreco is surely a wonderful medicine and I want to recommend it to everyone of my friends."

Mr. H. W. C. Marr Baker, the well-known Expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Schlitz Bros. Downtown Drug Store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him.

FAVORABLE YEAR FOR DAIRYMAN IS FORECAST BY EXPERT

ALL TESTS POINT TO GOOD RETURNS, ECONOMIST STATES

Prices Relatively High, Feed Costs Low and Competition Limited

Madison—(AP)—A favorable outlook for dairymen, comparable to the present situation in the industry, is seen by Gilbert Guster, Chicago economist.

Conditions of the industry during recent months and his predictions for the next 12 month period are given by Mr. Guster in an article appearing in the current issue of the Wisconsin Agriculturist.

"All the tests," he said, "by which the present dairy situation may be sounded out yield a favorable reading. Prices of milk and butterfat in recent months have been relatively high. Feed costs have been low. Dairy production has been on a moderate scale, while industrial conditions have favored large consumption. Owing to tariff protection, low prices abroad have had not seriously depressing effects. Carry-overs of dairy products in storage are moderate and will give no important competition for the new season of production."

"Butter and butterfat prices have been higher than at the corresponding period in 1926. Milk cows, old cows sold for beef, and veal calves also have surpassed 1926 price levels. While fluid milk has been a shade lower than a year back, it has been above any other year since 1920. Fluid milk prices are gently influenced by local conditions, but the average for the entire country makes this showing."

"The present dairy situation looks all the more favorable when it is remembered that the average price of farm products was nearly 8 per cent lower in 1926 than in 1925. The index number of average prices of all farm products in March, 1927, the latest month for which the record is available, was only 126 compared with 140 a year previous. In other words, the average price of farm products is only 28 per cent higher than the pre-war period taken as a base, while a year ago, they were 40 per cent over pre-war."

"Feed prices have continued on a relatively low basis since the spring of 1925. Within that period, the changes have been unimportant. Last year farm prices for corn were about 2 per cent lower than a year ago, while oats were 12 per cent higher and hay 5 per cent higher. They have averaged only 5 to 10 per cent above their pre-war level, while prices of milk and butterfat have been 60 to 65 per cent over pre-war."

"Since Jan. 1, 1927, relative prices have been such as to favor imports, and some substantial shipments of foreign butter have been received which have counter-balanced the scanty storage stocks. The importation of cream and whole milk has been partially embargoed and this phase of foreign trade has been brought under better regulation than before."

"These comments have had to do with the past. What does the future hold?"

"Experience has shown that low prices for dairy products usually follow the average, about two years after high prices. There is considerable variation in the length of these periods however. Nevertheless, we can safely conclude that the next 12 to 15 months will be about as favorable for the dairyman as the past year."

TEST HERDS ONCE MORE FOR ACCREDITED LIST

Farmers in Outagamie-co desiring to have their herds placed on the accredited list can do so by having their cattle tested once more, according to Robert A. Amundson, county agent. The work must be done by an accredited veterinarian, and must be paid for by the farmers themselves.

In counties that have been area tested, farmers may enter their herds in the accredited list by conducting only one more test. It was decided at the last meeting of the state veterinarians at Madison that this was true.

Mention of this decision is made in a letter to Mr. Amundson from James S. Healy of the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of agriculture.

He reminds farmers that buyers are becoming more particular in that they are singling out animals only from accredited herds or those under supervision. Especially is this true with buyers from Canada and the east.

Sudan Grass And Soybeans Good Supplementary Crops

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer

As considerable of the old seeding of alfalfa has winter killed, a number of farmers will need to plant some kind of a supplementary crop to supply their cattle with the customary amount of feed. A few who have lost their seedling have signified their intentions of planting an additional acreage of corn to make up the deficiency. Others may try soybeans, Sudan grass or sweet clover.

One expert in feeds for dairy cattle, says that soybeans are very valuable as a feed. In comparing the cost of raising soybeans with the cost of raising oats, he says that at present it costs $34 to produce an acre of soybeans and $39 to produce an acre of oats. There is a more striking difference in the value of the crops. Oats, he says, are worth $23 an acre, while soybeans are worth $55 an acre. Soybeans yield from one to three tons of hay to the acre, and under favorable conditions should average two tons.

In feeding value, soybeans compare favorably with alfalfa hay. As the soybean is a legume, it is a soil builder.

ACREAGE GROWS
Another authority, says that the soybean acreage in Wisconsin has been increasing the past four years by leaps and bounds. The use of 1.5 bushels of soybeans per acre with Black Eye-brown variety gave over 3.5 tons of dried hay to the acre. As a result of another experiment with the Manch variety of soybeans, a yield of 4.2 tons of hay per acre was obtained from seeding at the rate of two bushels per acre with a grain drill.

For hay, soy beans may be planted any time up to June 1. The best results are obtained by planting in rows far enough apart for cultivation. The grain drill with some of the spools closed up, is often used but the corn planter can be used very successfully. When planting in rows 30 to 35 inches apart, 30 to 40 pounds per acre should be used for heavier soils, and 20 to 25 pounds for lighter and less fertile soils. Soybeans do best when planted shallow in well prepared soil. Some farmers in the state are depending on soybeans, almost entirely for their silage, hay and concentrated feeds.

SUDAN GRASS TEST
For some years, G. E. Mortimer, Wisconsin college of agriculture, has been studying Sudan grass to find out its adaptability as a supplementary hay crop in Wisconsin. His experiments have shown that a good crop of forage can be produced if it is sown in May or June. Under normal conditions Sudan grass is ready for pasture six weeks after seeding and supplies pasture from 68 to 75 days at the rate of one cow to the acre. It has been found that when the regular pastures fail, the Wisconsin farmer can sow Sudan grass the last week in May and expect a pasture crop by the middle of July which will carry his cattle through the August drought. As hay, Sudan grass yields about four tons to the acre. "It has been demonstrated over a period of five years," says Wisconsin Bulletin 352, "that the best results may be obtained by broadcasting or drilling Sudan grass at the rate 20 to 25 pounds of seed to the acre. This rate seems to be the most effective for seed production or for hay. The crop has the additional advantages of making an excellent yield of hay when sown as late as the first week in July. As a smother crop to be combined with a partial following for the eradication of quack grass, Sudan grass is unexcelled." Sudan grass is one of the best supplementary crops for pasture or hay.

As sweet clover is becoming the standard and reliable pasture, it is mentioned as a supplementary crop. It probably will supply as much feed on an acre of ground as any other crop that can be planted. Wisconsin Circular 178 says of this crop: "Sweet clover is valuable on Wisconsin farms because of its ability to furnish excellent legume pasturage without much danger of frost. During July and August when the permanent but shallow rooted blue grass pastures are mostly at rest and unproductive, sweet clover is of the greatest service. It will carry about one head of cattle an acre for from four to six months, beginning about the first of May when the sweet clover will be from four to six inches high to the first of September."

CHANGE TIME OF GREENLEAF FAIR

Sales Will Be Held Third Saturday, Instead of First Tuesday of Month

Greenleaf—Because too many pig fairs were being held in this vicinity during the first part of the month, including the Greenleaf Stock fair, a committee in charge of the local fair decided recently to change the date from the first Tuesday of the month to the third Saturday. The first fair after the change of dates will be held on Saturday, May 23.

Another change involves the listing of articles to be sold at auction in advance of the fair and advertising the list throughout the country on handbills. This list of articles will include farm machinery, household furniture, automobiles, seeds, horses and cattle. Anybody having such things or other things to sell may list them with any business man in Greenleaf or with any member of the fair committee.

The sales will be made without cost to the owner as the business men pay the costs. The auction will be held at the junction of highways 57 and 96 on the stock fair grounds. On the days of the fair, the business men of Greenleaf will put on special sales, and lunches will be served at reasonable prices in the vicinity of the fair grounds.

The members of the fair committee are: Gus Neubauer, M. J. Leick, Jacob Rose, A. W. Mattes, C. R. McGrath.

Beside working along all lines to make future fairs a success, the fair committee is trying to induce stock buyers from far and near to attend the Greenleaf fairs.

MUELLER BUILDS SHED FOR FARM MACHINERY

Black Creek—Elmer Mueller, route 3, has recently finished building a tool shed and shop on a concrete foundation, 20 by 80 feet. Farm tools, such as corn and grain binders, hay rakes, hay loaders, mowers, manure spreaders and all other expensive tools are used only a few days each season and if kept under cover when not in use would last a lifetime. Mr. Mueller figures that the saving he will make by keeping his tools under cover, in a few years will pay the cost of his new building. The life of binders, manure spreaders, hay loaders and so forth, if left out in weather, is about three seasons.

C. T. A. REORGANIZES, ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Reorganization of the Ellington Cow Testing association was completed at a recent meeting. The new directors are John Doherty, R. R. Griswold, John Spears, M. E. Nelson, Ed. ## MARKET DEPARTMENT MAPS OUT PLAN FOR CO-OP SALE OF OIL

Makes Survey for Organizations Planning to Follow Minnesota System

Madison—(AP)—The Wisconsin state department of markets is making a survey of cooperative oil sales for the information of those in this state who plan to follow Minnesota cooperative organizations and those in other states in entering this field.

The department warns, however, "that the opportunity may not continue as favorable as at present. Margins in 1925 were only 70 per cent of the recent averages and lower prices may return even before the end of the present year."

"The margin" situation in gasoline was reviewed by the department. "Although the retail price of gasoline is now 3 cents below summer prices of 1926, the margin between retail prices and wholesale costs has been on an almost continual upward trend for the past 15 months. The spread between the service station price and the cost in tank cars at Milwaukee averaged 5 1/2 cents for the month of April whereas 6 cents not long ago used to be considered sufficient margin for a local oil company to work on."

"Mrs. Jensen is now operating her poultry industry with 150 Rhode Island Reds, but she is changing to White Leghorns having lately purchased 340 chicks of the latter breed. In 1926 Mrs. Jensen sold $347.57 worth of eggs from 120 hens. The cost of feed during that interval was $193.75 on a profit on eggs above the cost of feed of $153.77. The average production of her hens was 125 eggs. During the year she sold $270.98 worth of broilers."

The laying ration used by Mrs. Jensen consists of 100 pounds of mid-dlings, 100 pounds of ground oats, 100 pounds of meat meal and five pounds of alfalfa. Besides this, she feeds her hens alfalfa leaves and a scratch feed consisting of 15 pounds of corn, 6 pounds of oats and 8 pounds of barley, daily. In winter her hens also get a supply of oyster shells and mangel.

Mrs. Jensen is feeding a commercial ration to her chicks.

LARGER CROWD THAN USUAL AT CITY FAIR

Wrightstown—The community auction and fair held on the west side on Thursday was attended by a crowd of farmers, larger than usual. Early in the morning little pigs were being sold at prices ranging from $4 to $7.50, the exact amount in each case depending on age and condition. Articles that were not sold at private sale in the forenoon were sold at auction in the afternoon.

WILD TURKEY IS SEEN IN TOWN OF CENTER

Center—William Caliche, a veteran hunter in this township, reports that he saw a wild turkey in April on a field owned by Charles Fredericks. His attention was attracted by a peculiar call of the bird and on turning about, Mr. Caliche saw the strange visitor strutting in the field only a short distance away. Before Mr. Caliche's curiosity was appeased, the bird took to wing, and flew in the fashion of a prairie chicken within 50 feet of the hunter to a cluster of pine trees on the farm of Edward Willencamp. Mr. Caliche says that this turkey was much larger than the ordinary tame turkey.

HERD PRODUCTION ON DENMARK FARM DOUBLED SINCE '21

Erickson and Son Credit Cow-Testing Work for Improvements and Added Profits

W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer

Denmark—Since joining the Shirley-Cow Testing association in 1921, A. P. Erickson and Son, route 4, have nearly doubled the milk and butterfat production of their herd, without increasing the number of cows.

J. C. Erickson, the younger member of the firm, attributes the improvement in the production of the herd to feeding the balanced rations suggested by the cow tester, to the discovery of poor producers in the herd by the cow tester, to the elimination, to the filling of the places of the cows called with the daughters of the best producers in the herd to the use of choice purebred sires, and to the interest that a dairyman who is a member of a cow testing association has in making a good record.

When the Ericksons joined the association the number of milking cows in their herd ranged throughout the year from 8 to 22, making the average number of milkers 15. The total value of the product of the cows for the year was $3,635.11 and the profits above the cost of the feed were $16.41. The average price of butterfat for that year was 35 cents a pound. The herd produced 99,033 pounds of milk and 3,563 pounds of butterfat.

5,410.2 POUNDS OF FAT
In 1926, the average number of cows milking in the herd was 18. The herd produced 111,526 pounds of milk and 5,410.2 pounds of butterfat in the year. The total value of this product was $2,897.69 and the value of the product above the cost of feed was $1,661.01. The average butterfat price was 33 cents per pound.

In April the Ericksons milked 19 cows. The production of the herd for the month was 16,179 pounds of milk and 587.1 pounds of butterfat. The total value of the product is $352.26. The profit, above the cost of feed, was $156.53.

The highest cow for April was Daisy, 6-year-old, a grade Holstein. She produced 1,278 pounds of milk and 43.7 pounds of butterfat. Topsy, 10-year-old grade Holstein, produced 1,212 pounds of milk and 42.3 pounds of butterfat.

Belle, 4-year-old grade Holstein, produced 1,050 pounds of milk and 41 pounds of butterfat.

The Ericksons are milking five heifers. A number of the cows now milking will freshen in the summer.

The Erickson herd, said the regular balanced ration recommended by the cow tester, consisting of 200 pounds of ground oats, 100 pounds of ground barley, 100 pounds of bran, 50 pounds of oil meal, 50 pounds of cotton seed meal and silage and alfalfa and red clover hay. The cattle get woodland, red clover, sweet clover and alfalfa pasture during the summer.

DAUGHTERS OF MIDAS

By Anne Austin

THIS HAS HAPPENED
BILLY WELLS, head of the glove department of the big Curtis Store, was a prize for her answers to a questionnaire prepared by T. Q. CURTIS himself. Billy is suspicious of Old T. Q.'s motives, when she observes that NYDA LOMAX, WINNIE SHELTON and the other twenty-two winners of prizes are the very prettiest girls in the store.

When the old man announces a second and amazing contest, Billy feels her suspicions are substantiated and she resolves to uncover his plans. When she tells CLAY CURTIS, son of the millionaire owner, about the second contest Clay is instantly suspicious and warns Billy to let the contest alone. Clay has disinherited himself and is now living in the home of the Wells family in a poorer part of the town, working in a factory and writing music at night.

He has been thrown down by an actress who refused him when she learned their marriage meant his disinheritance. He determines to make his own way, though the life of a working man grates harshly on his sensitive soul—a soul that loves beauty and music above all else. Billy's ambition to be a great concert violinist is the strongest bond between the two friends.

"What is Old T. Q. up to?" Billy asks herself the day after the big celebration while she pores over the rules for the second contest. When she sits down to write her essay on what she would do should she inherit a hundred thousand dollars, she discovers that she doesn't want wealth; only enough money for a fine violin and lessons from a good teacher. After her whimsical little confession is written, she tells her mother that she believes she can prophesy who eight of the ten winners of the contest will be. She writes down on a slip of paper the names of the eight prettiest girls.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XIII
The barometer of the Curtis Store morale that first week of February registered a drop of at least ten degrees. Tired middle-aged women who had tried and failed to win prizes in the questionnaire contest, or who had been too sure of failure to try, said cutting, lip-twisting words to the pretty girls who had won, and suspicion and speculation raged about bobbed and shingled and marcelled young heads.

Billy had rather dreaded to go to work on Monday morning, for fear she would find herself besieged with pleas for help by girls who had no gift for composition. But she found that nearly all of the twenty-five winners of the first contest were strangely reticent as to their hopes and plans for winning the second. Only Lella Sampson, her devoted chum, asked diffidently and humbly for her help.

"Only twenty of the twenty-five winners will compete," Lella told Billy as they sat over their luncheon in the cafeteria. "You know Susie Howard's leaving the store Saturday night, and Callie Bostwick, who won the twenty-fifth prize, says she wouldn't waste ink and paper on the silly contest. So does that Meyers girl who won the next to the last prize. Mrs. Allison in the stylish stouts who hasn't time, because two of her chilswered the question. If I had a hundred thousand dollars."

"A Billy-do for Billy Wells, with old T. Q.'s compliments and many happy returns of the day," Gus made her a low, mocking bow as he tendered the envelope.

Billy was about to open the misgiving when a man paused at her counter. Before she looked up into his face she was conscious only of annoyance that she would have to defer reading her face as to the contest, but in another moment she had forgotten everything but the man's eyes, which were smiling broadly down upon her. They were strange eyes—a veiled, somber black, but oddly compelling. The lid of one dropped slightly, the long, straight fringe of black lashes almost lying against the smooth, swarthy skin of his lean cheeks.

She had a foolish fleeting thrill of fear that the man's eyes were hypnotizing her, and she was curiously relieved when he smiled. Her eyes, released from the spell he had momentarily laid upon her, traveled swiftly over his face and figure. He was very slim, an extremely well-groomed. His straight, dark brown hair lay flat and polished against his narrow, aristocratic head, and the sprinkling of gray above the temples added distinction to his Oriental good looks. The thought flashed through her mind that he was a Hindu, for he somehow suggested India, but when he spoke it was with a voice that she had learned to associate with Boston and Harvard.

"Good afternoon," with a slight, foreign bending of the body at the hips, and that smile on his lips and in his eyes which changed his face so miraculously. "Some gloves, please for a young lady. French gray short gloves, with stitched cuffs."

"The size, please?" Billy felt that, with those few commonplace words of his, he had walled the two of them off from the rest of the store, that they were alone in a charmed, tiny area of precious intimacy. Her pulses were leaping, and she feared that her voice had trembled.

"I believe the young lady's hands are almost as small as yours," he smiled. She was passionately grateful.

"Oh, I couldn't!" Lella flushed more darkly. "I'd just die if anybody but you knew what I really want to do. And what's the use?" she asked dreamily. "It's all just make-believe. I'll never have a hundred thousand dollars, or Stanley Powers, or—anything." A tear rolled down her too plump, freckled cheeks.

Lella Sampson wrote her conscientious little essay, with the help of her father, a blind man who spent his time making whisk brooms and wire coat hangers. At his suggestion, her mythical hundred thousand was laudably spent on a state circulating library for the blind, with branches in every city.

By Thursday, the last day on which essays could be submitted, Nyda Lomax and Winnie Shelton, who had been fast friends, were hardly speaking to each other, and Pearl Hadley was in a state of almost constant tearfulness because of the snubs and cutting remarks that she so undeservedly met on every hand.

No one knew just how T. Q. planned to award the prizes, whatever they might be, and when Tuesday of the next week arrived the entire organization was seething with conjecture, resentment and open suspicion of T. Q.'s motives.

At four o'clock when the store was at its highest peak of nervous tension, augmented by the fatigue of an unusually heavy day's business, old T. Q.'s personal office boy, Gus, darted like a grinning Mercury from department to department, carrying sealed envelopes which he delivered with his choicest wisecracks, to the twenty girls and women who had answered the question. If I had a hundred thousand dollars."

"I wear a five and a half," she answered in a low voice, to match the low, almost caressing intimacy of his own tone.

He bought three pairs of the most expensive French gloves in the Curtis Store and ordered them sent to Miss Annette Truman, one of the "society girls" of Colfax, but he did not give her his card to enclose in the package.

When he was gone, with another of his flashing, intimate smiles, Billy stood for a long minute, unthinking wrapped in a dreamy haze. "Have you forgotten you note from T. Q.?" Julie Barker, who had been an interested observer of the sale, inquired caustically. "Wonder who the sheet is? Gee, Billy you fell for him like a ton of bricks."

She did not answer, but took up T. Q. Curtis' note and ripped open the envelope. Then with her eyes on the sheet of paper, the spell was broken.

"Mr. Curtis requests your presence in his private office this afternoon at five-forty-five, as he is pleased to inform you that you are one of the ten prize winners in the contest. If I had a hundred thousand dollars, Mr. Curtis also requests that you refrain from conversation on the subject of the contest until after he has made the awards."

Billy flushed and trembled with an excitement that could not be wholly explained on the grounds of elation over winning an unnamed prize. For inexplicable reasons, she felt that she was on the verge of something tremendous, vitally important to herself. Lella Sampson came to Billy's department after the store closed.

"Oh, Billy, I won a prize! I'm so excited I can hardly stand it. Did you—but of course you did!"

"Yes," Billy answered briefly, then her own forebodings were swept away at sight of Lella's shining eyes. "I'm awfully glad you are one of the winners Lella."

"It was awful in the dressing rooms, Billy," Lella confided. "Some of the girls wouldn't even speak to me, because they'd heard I'd won a prize. And they're saying the most dreadful things about T. Q."

"Let's go up," Billy vigorously brushed powder from the front of her little brown velvet dress. "I'm not so stuck on this contest business myself. I hope this is the last of T. Q.'s bright ideas."

They were the only passengers in the ascending elevator and when they arrived at the open door of T. Q.'s private office, they found that the other eight prize winners were already there, clustered self-consciously about the department store owner's unoccupied desk, smiling with their lips, but regarding one another with suspicious speculative eyes.

Billy let Lella Sampson slip in the doorway, telling the names of the girls off on her fingers—one, two, three, four, five, six, and seven—No, she hadn't won her wager—quite.

How To Play Bridge

By Milton C. Work

The pointer for today is: WITH A NO TRUMP CONTRACT AND AN EIGHT LED, DUMMY HOLDING TEN-X AND THE CLOSED HAND KING-QUEEN-X, DECLARER MAY BE SURE THAT DUMMY'S TEN CAN WIN THE FIRST TRICK.

When the opening lead against a No Trump is a small card, it is the leader's fourth best; consequently he must have three higher cards in that suit. In this case there are only three cards higher than the card led which are not in the Declarer's two hands, so the Declarer can be positive that the Ten will win the trick. This is merely another method of stating the Rule of Eleven, which is that a subtraction of the pips on the cards led from eleven, shows the number of cards of the suit higher than the card which are not in the hand of the leader.

Yesterday the cards of the Dummy (North) and Closed Hand (South) were given in the following deal:

♠ K-4-3-2	♥ K-10-9
♦ 4-3-2	♣ K-10-2
♠ 10-7-5	♥ K-Q-5-7-5
♦ A-J-10-9-8	♣ 6-4
♠ A-K-7-3	♥ A-8-6
♦ A-Q-3	♣ K-Q-3

I asked my readers which card should be played from Dummy on trick 1, with the Eight of Clubs led, and why. The answer slip on which I hope you wrote your answer yesterday should read:

On trick 1, Dummy should play the Ten of Clubs because it will win the trick and permit the Declarer to keep the King and Queen together, which ensures another Club trick.

If the card led had been the Six, Declarer, subtracting six from eleven and finding the remainder to be five, would have known—as he could see in his two hands four of the five Clubs higher than the Six—that the Third Hand must hold one card higher than the Six; but he would not have known which one of the four possible cards (Ace, Jack, Nine or Eight) it was. Even in that case the Ten should be played from Ten-x, and from Ten-x-x; but the play from Ten-x-x would not be the clinch that it would be with the Eight led.

Now let us suppose that West leads the Eight and Dummy wins the first trick with the Ten. What should

NELSON AGAIN IS ELECTED HEAD OF
EDUCATION BOARDCommissioners Buy More
Playground Equipment and Order Fences

Kaukauna—L. F. Nelson was re-elected president of the board of education at its regular monthly meeting Monday evening in the high school auditorium. N. M. Haupt was elected vice president and Miss Eva Pearl Grebe was reappointed to the office of secretary to the board.

The board voted to buy new playground equipment for Nicollet school. It was believed that the present equipment has passed its period of usefulness and it will be taken down and dismantled at once. The board bought six swings costing $55.20, one teeter totter with three boards costing $25.20 and six giant swing chains and hanging ropes. The playground equipment at Park school will be placed in back of the school instead of at the side entrances where it is at present.

Cyclone fencing will be placed along the Park school playgrounds on Taylor-st. State trunk highways 15 and 55 pass over this street and there is a heavy traffic during the day, making it especially dangerous for school children. A new fence also will be built along the rear of the school grounds to separate the school property from the private property in that block. At the Nicollet school grounds a fence will be built on Crooks-ave. along the playgrounds. State trunk highway 55 passes over this street.

Superintendent James F. Cavanaugh and William Smith, physical director, were ordered by the board to make an investigation into the injury of Starke's child several months ago.

The building and grounds committee met early Tuesday morning at the high school auditorium to inspect the building for repairs for commencement exercises. It is quite probable that the interior of the building, which is in bad condition, will be repainted and painted. The committee also will cooperate with the city park commission in attempting to beautify the streets over which state trunk highways pass. Necessary shrubbery will be in place on the school grounds.

J. J. Haas again was appointed school census taker. He will start his duties after the close of school in June. It was disclosed at the meeting that there are about 2400 children of school age in the city.

Superintendent Cavanaugh announced he had purchased a new history set of 15 volumes for the high school library. The set is entitled "Pageant of America" and is profusely illustrated. The book is by the Yale University Press.

EVIL WEEVIL ISN'T ERADICATED BUT IS VERY WELL COUNTED

Department of Agriculture Knows How to Determine Population of Insect

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Washington—The agricultural experts haven't been able to eradicate the boll weevil yet, but they can track them to their lairs and count them. At first thought, it may seem as if counting the evil weevils might be as hopeless a job as counting raindrops in a heavy storm or tree-leaves in spring. But the Department of Agriculture has the matter of determining the weevil population pretty well systematized.

The most important thing is not to determine the exact population in hundreds of thousands of millions, but rather the percentage of weevils which live through the winter and emerge from their hibernation in the spring to do business on the next cotton crop.

COUNT ALL WEEVILS

Estimate is first made by collecting quantities of Spanish moss and other material in which the weevils hibernate. The weevil-counters go carefully through the huge pile and count all the dead and live weevils. The less live weevils and the more dead ones the better. The field station of the Bureau of Entomology at Tallulah, La., has charge of this work.

The bureau also co-operates with southern states in making special cage tests of weevil emergence. In the fall a certain number of weevils is carefully fed to one side and put into each of a number of cages. The weevils are then given what they doubtless consider perfect places in the shape of sheltered material such as cotton stalks, grass, refuse, chips and the like. After that the weevils are left to themselves until spring. Then they are carefully watched for emerging weevils and from time to time estimates are made of the total that have emerged. After the experiment is all over, it is rather to be feared, the test weevils are all summarily executed.

Let no one think that plowing through a few tons of Spanish moss for live weevils is a pleasant task. The job of moss from southern Louisiana is not so thick as it might be, for this year he found an average of 70 live weevils in a ton of stuff. Last year was a banner year for the weevil counter, for the records show 248 weevils per ton of southern Louisiana moss.

But what about the weevil-counter who must go through a ton of northern Louisiana moss and find but four weevils? (The state average of Louisiana is 15.7 weevils per ton.) Last year the counter's task was altogether thankless for northern Louisiana moss, for there were no live weevils at all, and dead weevils simply don't count. This year, South Carolina moss also failed to produce any live weevils.

EXPECT SERIOUS DAMAGE
This year's records cited only cover the initial weevil infestation and the entomology bureau reports that if weather conditions are favorable—serious weevil damage may be expected. A normal infestation is predicted in large sections of the cotton belt and in some cases more than normal.

The Mississippi valley territory may expect a somewhat heavier initial infestation than in 1926, with infestation decidedly decreasing to the east. Owing to favorable weather late in the 1926 cotton season, Texas may expect a heavier initial infestation than in several years. Even in the eastern section of the cotton belt, the experts fear serious damage will be inflicted if that section experiences good weevil weather.

CONVENTION BOOSTS ART APPRECIATION
Milwaukee—(P)—A greater appreciation and understanding of art, economically and industrially, will be the keynote of the meeting of the Western Arts Association, May 4, 5, 6 and 7, according to A. G. Pelikan, art director, Milwaukee Art Institute.

Many Wisconsin schools and schools throughout the west will be represented in what promises to be the largest exhibition of school art work ever exhibited in one place in America, Mr. Pelikan said.

The Western Arts Association is composed of teachers of Arts, Household Arts, Manual Arts, Industrial Arts, and Drawing Arts. These teachers represent the various phases of art and industrial arts education in graded schools, high schools, technical and normal schools and colleges and universities.

THREE SOLOISTS OF CHICAGO OPERA TO SING IN APPLETON

Artists Will Appear Here on Operatic Night of Music Festival

Three soloists from the Chicago Civic Opera Co. will sing on operatic night of the Appleton Spring Music festival May 12 and 13 at Lawrence Memorial chapel. Margery Maxwell, prima donna soprano, Virgilio Lazzari, basso, and Ricardo Martin, tenor, will appear in solo, duet and trio numbers. Schola Cantorum, a chorus of 175 voices from Lawrence conservatory of music, will sing the great choruses from the operas under the direction of Dean Carl J. Waterman. Of Margery Maxwell, one critic has said, "Her voice is a pure lyric soprano, wonderfully sweet in quality and true in pitch. The delicate tones were exquisite but her voice was equally beautiful in powerful passages."

Miss Maxwell is one of the most popular sopranos now available. In spite of her youth, she has attained for herself a place among the best musical artists of the country. During her engagements with the Chicago Opera association in Chicago and New York she scored an individual success, gaining instant favor with opera-goers and the commendation of critics.

Virgilio Lazzari is said to be the greatest basso singer in America. He is one of the greatest artists of the Chicago Civic Opera Co. "His deep tones are resonant and pure, carrying with them a thrill that no hearer can deny. He also possesses a softer, higher tone quality that verges on the baritone and makes one marvel after hearing his tones strike the low bass depths but a moment before." And the Chicago Evening Post said of him, "Mr. Lazzari replaced Chablain in the title role of 'Mefistofele' in the evening, and gave a performance of force and individuality."

Ricardo Martin, the famous tenor, has been connected with the Chicago Opera association, Covent Garden, London, and the Metropolitan Opera company, New York. He sang in the New York Evening Post said of him in 1921, "He is an American—the finest living tenor except Caruso." During the festival opera season in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph said, "Tones rang out with vigor, clarion tones with stirring effect, Caruso never sang better than did Martin last evening."

The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra will play a concert the second evening of the spring festival.

LYRIC SOPRANO

Margery Maxwell, lyric soprano of the Chicago Civic Opera Co., will sing on operatic night of the Appleton Spring Music festival May 12 and 13 at Lawrence Memorial chapel.

ROLLICKING HUMOR IN NEW FOX PICTURE

For an afternoon or evening of rollicking, side-splitting entertainment by all means see "Love Makes 'Em Wild," a picture just as attractive as its title at the New Bijou Wednesday and Thursday. It is Fox Film's version of Florence Ryerson's story, "Willie the Worm."

The principal character in "Love Makes 'Em Wild," is the kind of a fellow we all know. He might live next door. He might be a brother or a son. Everyone cracks jokes and he's the butt. However, romance comes into his more or less drab existence. Then, well, see it for yourself. It's great entertainment...every moment of it.

Johnny Harron and Sally Phipps head an excellent cast which includes J. Farrell McDonald, Arthur Housman, Florence Gilbert and Ben Bard. Albert Ray, director of the production has retained all the humor of the story—and more.

Don't miss "Love Makes 'Em Wild."

The Misses Anna and Minnie Guezen have returned from a two months visit in Los Angeles, Calif.

DORMITORY LIFE IS NEARLY IDEAL

New System of University of Wisconsin Teaches Self Government

Madison — (AP)—Llewellyn R. Cole, Milwaukee, president of the University of Wisconsin Men's Dormitory association, believes that student life in the new men's dormitories at the state school approaches most closely the ideal residence conditions for men students.

The Dormitory association is a self-governing organization of the 500 who constitute the first group of residents in Tripp and Adams halls, opened last fall.

Because of the training in self-government given by the organization, the guidance in scholarship given residents, and the recreational and social life centering at the halls, Cole believes the dormitories in their first year have opened the new era of men student life projected by the late President C. R. Van Hise, President Glenn Frank and other university leaders.

"Tripp and Adams Halls, the two dormitory quadrangles, are divided into eight units of 32 residents each," Cole explains the system. "Each unit is under the supervision of an upper-classman or graduate termed a 'fellow.' The units hold house meeting about once a week, presided over by an elected student chairman.

"The chairman and fellow of each unit are its representatives on the general governing body, called the Senate. The fellows have no vote in the Senate. Thus, students themselves take care of their own affairs such as financial problems and matters of discipline. The president of the association is elected from the whole group."

Assistance in study is given by residents who would be impossible under outside residence conditions, according to Cole. The fellows have personal consultations with students reported by the faculty to be making slow progress in their classes. Interest in scholarship is heightened by competition for a scholarship award among the various units.

Recreation is provided for by the new Intramural athletic field beside the dormitories, and Lake Mendota at the front doors. One evening a week is set aside for an after-dinner "song fest" of three-quarters of an hour. Musical talent is encouraged and two dormitory orchestras have been organized.

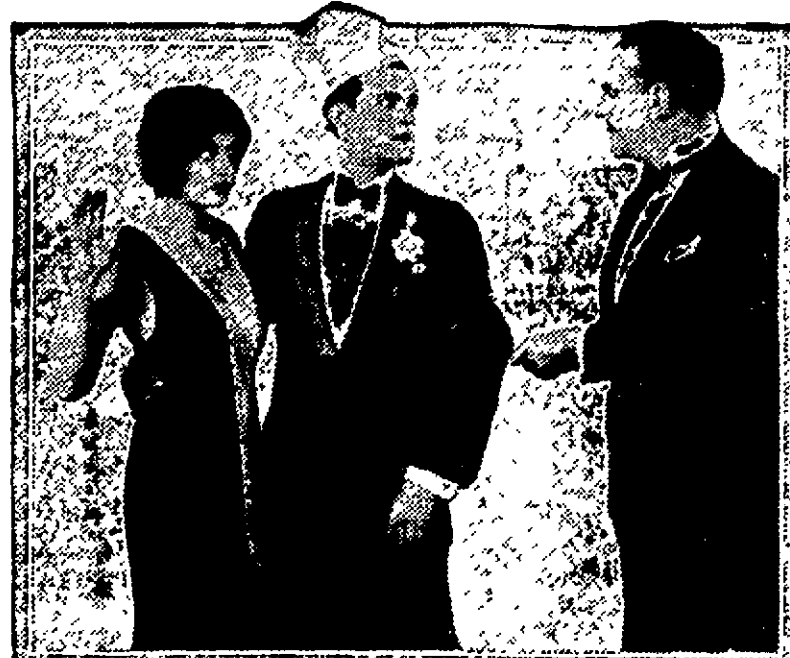

One night each week university leaders are the official guests of the dormitory men and remain at dinner for informal visits with the students.

STATE SENDS CITY CHECK FOR $3,553

A check for $3,553.75 was received from the state treasurer Monday morning by Fred E. Bachman, city treasurer, as the city's share of the fire insurance premiums collected here last year. The amount represents 2 per cent of all premiums paid by Appleton citizens to insurance companies. The entire sum is placed in the firemen's pension fund, according to Mr. Bachman.

HISTORIC SHAWL IS RECEIVED BY COLLEGE

A small piece of a shawl reported to have been brought to America on the Mayflower has been given to the American history department at Lawrence college by a student, Miss Jeanette Teller of Wisconsin Rapids. The design and type of shawl is like a Paisley and Miss Teller believes it came from Scotland.

Its colors and pattern are similar to the Paisley shawls worn by the grandmothers of this generation. Miss Teller said it had been handed down through the generations in her family. It will be placed in the museum of the history department.

In the face. It is likely that he had never before given way to such mirth in public.

One must admit, of course, that it was not a deep, roaring laugh, but for Mr. Coolidge it was almost astounding. He was showing the correspondents an old cartoon depicting Grover Cleveland's troubles with job hunters, commenting appropriately. And he laughed so much that he actually became red in the face.

POSTOFFICE MAKES 30 LOANS TO VETERANS

Approximately 30 loans have been made at the Appleton postoffice to veterans of the World war on their compensation certificates, according to Fred Kellix Wettengel, acting postmaster. This is an average of about one loan a day as they could be made only since April 1.

Veterans who come to borrow money almost invariably ask for the full amount possible on the certificates. Mr. Wettengel said. Practically all are in real need of the loans, he believed. If the rate of loans is as large in other cities as in Appleton, there are many certificates being sent back to the veterans bureau as collateral, the postmaster said.

MARRIAGES INCREASE IN COUNTY LAST YEAR

Marriages in Outagamie county increased from 332 in 1925 to 358 in 1926 while in the previous year there were 55 divorces as compared with only 50 in 1925 according to statistics compiled by the national department of commerce at Washington, D. C. Only six counties in the state reported a larger number of marriages than Outagamie while ten counties reported more divorces. There was only one marriage annulment in 1925 in this county.

Marriages in the state increased from 15,024 in 1925 to 15,551 in 1926 while divorces decreased from 2,401 to 2,386. There were 44 annulments.

Cal Shows He's Real Ball Fan By Staying Until End

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington — It would be a very astonishing thing if our president, sometimes known as "the Good Calvin," were found to be developing a streak of devilry.

Probably nothing of the sort is in prospect, although every so often some correspondent feels that he has discerned a certain change in the president.

No greater unhappiness could be inflicted upon the Secret Service men who constantly guard Mr. Coolidge, and any small indication resembling friskiness in their charge always throws them into a panic.

Mr. Coolidge attended a baseball game the other day. It was the first game of the season and there was a huge mob of customers to see the hired hands of two baseball companies determine whether there would be joy in Washington or Boston that night.

The supposition was that Mr. Coolidge, accompanied by his charming better half, had come merely to throw the first ball onto the field, a job which some serious minded persons might hardly be expected to regard as other than a damned nuisance. The photographers agreed that the ball throwing was a complete success.

The president's form defied criticism, although the performance of Bucky Harris in handing the precious first ball to him and in shaking hands all around was probably the limit in application of saccharin, which is 416 times as sweet as sugar. Mr. Harris is the manager of what are known locally as the Nationals but to all rest of the world as the Senators, and he recently entered the Social Register following marriage to one of the Register's fairest flowers.

Well, along about the end of the fifth inning, it began to appear that

Mr. Coolidge might actually have come to see a ball game. It was at or about this point that the Secret Service contingent had hoped and expected to escort the First Man and the First Lady of the Land from out of this howling mob which included everyone else from the Fourteenth Man and Seventeenth Lady of the Land down to the uncertain numerical standing of certain shrieking gentlemen of color in the faraway bleachers.

But the president didn't budge. His team had rolled up six runs for him to Boston's one and the least he could do was to show his appreciation and wait around for more. That is, it is to be assumed that Mr. Coolidge felt that way about it. Mrs. Coolidge had been marking a score card all along and it must have been approximately correct, for Mr. Coolidge occasionally studied it over her shoulder. The president actually stood up at a spectacular play in the fourth.

The fear of the guards was that some Boston slugger might wallop a home run with three men on in the last inning, which would have led to disorder among whooping fans who might fall into the presidential box and hurt somebody. It's much easier to get a president out of a crowd of 25,000 people if you start before the 25,000 start.

Surprise would have smitten such as regard Mr. Coolidge as a cold, austere and never-smiling gentleman had they attended a recent White House press conference. The fact seems generally to have gone unnoticed that at one point the president laughed so hard that he positively became red

This Is National Music Week

USIC is the language of inspiration. Its effect upon the mind and upon the body itself is magical, instantaneous and uplifting. It increases thought and feeling and CAPACITY for both.

There is something wrong, as Shakespeare says in 'The Merchant of Venice' with "the man that hath no music in himself."

He need not necessarily be "fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils," but he is apt to be dull as a turnip.

There are ignorant men and women that belittle the great service and benefit to mankind of those inventions and methods which have brought music into the houses of the people. INTELLIGENT persons know that the world has been made better and life more joyous, that new opportunities and a new civilizing process have been created, because music has thus been made DEMOCRATIC and UNIVERSAL.

And this widespread distribution of the best music has by no means shown all its good effects as yet. When the printing press first came into existence, its beneficiaries were comparatively few, because comparatively few could READ. When books were given to the millions, the millions LEARNED to read them. Universal education followed the printing press.

Now that the best music is made available in this nation to a hundred million, where formerly only a few thousands had access to it, the hundred million will learn to KNOW and APPRECIATE it.

And a finer, happier, more enlightened civilization will be the result.

WISCONSIN JUMPS TO SIXTH PLACE IN HYDRO PRODUCTION

Cost of Producing Electricity
by Water Power Higher
Than by Coal Plants

Madison—A popular misconception that water power plants produce electric energy more cheaply than the new type of efficient coal burning plants is dispelled by statistics compiled for Commissioner Adolph Kennerly of the Wisconsin Railroad commission.

A survey of the cost of producing electricity by hydro-electric plants in Wisconsin shows that the average cost of one kilowatt hour of electricity is .34 cents more than the cost of generating a kilowatt hour at the Lakeview pulverized fuel plant of the Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Co.

Revised figures received from the United States Geological survey show that water powers in Wisconsin generated 47.8 per cent of the total energy produced last year. It was the greatest water power year in history.

The study also reveals that Wisconsin has jumped in rank from ninth place to sixth among the states in water power production, displacing Pennsylvania and Idaho. The five states leading Wisconsin follow in their order of rank: California, New York, Washington, Montana and Alabama. Wisconsin produced 3.2 per cent of the aggregate national output.

Wisconsin also made record-breaking gains in the total energy produced by both hydro and steam plants. At the end of 1925 Wisconsin ranked tenth among the states, and at the end of 1926, it had reached eighth place. The seven states leading Wisconsin in total production follow in order of rank: New York, Pennsylvania, California, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and Massachusetts. During 1926 Wisconsin displaced Washington and West Virginia in total output.

The total water power production in 1926 according to official revised figures, was $70,000,000 kilowatt hours; fuel power production was $49,834,000 kilowatt hours was $49,834,000 kilowatt hours or an aggregate of 1,200,000,000 kilowatt hours.

ASSESSMENT CARDS SENT TO MOTORISTS

Car Owners Asked to Fill Out
Cards and Mail Them to Assessor

Assessment cards were mailed Saturday to automobile owners by George E. Petter, city assessor. Owners are requested to fill out the cards and return them as soon as possible. There are more than 4,000 cars in Appleton, the assessor points out, and it requires much time to enter the returns in the books.

Owners are asked to include on the cards an honest valuation of their automobile. This valuation and the record on the books in the assessor's office will be used in making the assessment. If an owner tries to avoid the tax by placing a low valuation on his car he will not succeed because the assessor has a record of all the cars and he checks the valuations given by the owners.

Other information which must be supplied is the make of the car, number of cylinders, number of passengers it will carry, the car was manufactured and when the present owner acquired the machine.

GIRLS TRANSLATE BRIAND SPEECH TO WORLD LEAGUE

Miss Amy Howser and Miss Ethel Blake, Appleton students at Lawrence college, were in the group of four which entered translations in the national contest conducted by the Briand and Speech committee in Washington, D. C. The translations were of a speech of M. Aristide Briand, premier of France, given at Geneva, Switzerland, in September on the admission of Germany to the League of Nations.

The best translation submitted by American students will be the authorized English version of the speech. The speech indicates a friendly feeling for Germany, and is a piece of literary French, as the French government has proposed securing an authorized English version it is said.

SURVEY SHOWS RISE OF BIG RECEIVERS

Largest Increase Is Noted in 6-tube Sets, According to Report

Milwaukee—A survey made by the Milwaukee Journal to determine radio trade conditions in the Greater Milwaukee district, shows a general reaction against the three-tube receiver and the rise in popularity of larger sets with improved equipment.

While the ownership of the larger receivers increased in all cases above that of last year, a loss was recorded in the smaller receivers. The greatest increase came in six-tube sets, which jumped from 11 per cent of the total on January 15, 1926, to 25 per cent a year later.

The next greatest increase was in eight-tube sets, and five-tube receivers followed these in increased percentage. Despite a loss in the smaller receivers, however, the tabulation showed that 29 per cent of the radio fans owned sets with less than five tubes. The gain in radio set ownership among the families of the Greater Milwaukee district was from nearly 29 per cent of the total families in this area to more than 44 per cent.

Percentage of crystal set owners decreased in even greater proportion than that of three-tube set owners. The greatest increase in radio apparatus was in Belminators, which revealed a jump of 700 per cent in the last year. Nearly one-fourth of the set owners have eliminators. Dry B-batteries have shown a slight decrease as a result.

Storage A-batteries, however, increased greatly in number, although this was not proportionate to the increase in radio set owners. This was due to purchase of A-battery eliminators, which are beginning to come in.

INDIVIDUAL CARS CAN'T BE INSURED UPON FLEET RATES

Practice Makes for Unfair
Competition Among Insurance Companies

Madison—(P)—Automobile insurance companies operating in Wisconsin have been warned by M. A. Freedy, commissioner of insurance, that they must stop insuring individually owned automobiles at fleet rates.

"Upon assuming the duties of this office, I followed the purpose so far as in my power, of relieving the companies from all annoying injustices and from the transaction of legal honest underwriting," says a letter from the commissioner to insurance company heads. "The automobile supplementary fleet insurance rating was one of these aggravations."

"It is generally admitted that individually owned cars shall NOT properly be included nor covered by fleet rates. However they are. This makes for unfair competition and both companies and agents following such practice are violating the anti-discrimination laws, and the mail is burdened with complaints from honest companies and honest agents who are losing business because of the illegal practices of others.

"These violations of the law must stop, and I am making this special appeal for your cooperation, with the request that you promptly have your Wisconsin agents notified that they must strictly comply with the ruling that individually owned cars cannot be included nor covered by fleet rates. The determining factor, for inclusion under fleet coverage must be ownership and not use. All other attempts at plausible and misleading reasoning merely involves the question of technicalities, resulting in violations of the ruling and of the law. Will you also in such communication to your agents emphasize that your company will not be a party to any such violations?"

The insurance companies are served notice that further violation of the rules will bring citations for the transgressing companies to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked.

At $110 These Safe 6%
Shares, Redeemable at $100, Are A Bargain

Interest rates have been falling for five years past, and are expected to keep on falling for a good many years to come. Safe investment stocks are today selling on the stock exchanges at prices which yield an average income of less than 6%. Men who should know say we are headed back to the days of 4% bonds and 5% income from high grade stocks.

Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company 6% cumulative preferred shares, now on sale direct to home investors at $100 each, and callable at $110 each, are, under present and probable future investment conditions, one of the best bargains in sight today. Not for speculators, of course, but for folks who want a permanent and dependable cash income at a rate above the general level for such shares.

Dividends on these shares are payable March 1, June 1, September 1 and December 1. These dividends must be paid in full for every year before any dividend can be paid to the owners of the $19,000,000 of common stock, who manage the business. If the business is ever sold, its preferred shareholders must be paid full face value for their shares, with dividends to date of such payment, before the common shareholders can get anything for their shares. Thus each preferred share has a first claim on more than $200 of income-producing public service property, over and above all debts of the Company. The Company's 27-year record dividend payments, its present status and its certain large future growth, make its preferred shares as safe as any business investment can be.

State regulation limits public utilities to a reasonable yearly return; they are not permitted to earn enough to grow out of profits. New property needed to supply increased public demand for their services must be paid for with new capital. Milwaukee Electric and its affiliated utilities get a large part of the new capital they need each year from home investors. Each year a larger amount of the Company's earnings is paid out to these home investors.

You can buy these shares, paying all cash or $10 down and $10 monthly per share. Buying either way you get 6% interest on every dollar invested from the day you put it into the business. The shares are on sale at Securities Department; at Wisconsin Gas & Electric Company's offices in Racine, Kenosha, Waukegan, Watertown, Burlington, Whitewater, South Milwaukee and Cudahy; at Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power Company's offices in Appleton and Neenah-Menasha; at Badger Public Service Company's office in Plymouth, and at Peninsular Power Company's office in Iron Mountain, Michigan.
